

Center for Interdisciplinary Studies

Series on Water 2016-2017

From Flint Michigan to Civic Science: Water, Health, Race and Environmental Justice

Wednesday, November 16, 2016

7:00PM- 8:30PM

Paige Hall, Crane Room

12 Upper Campus

Medford, MA 02155

How safe is our drinking water..are we all at risk?

Panel Experts

Professor Jonathan Garlick

Director, Tissue Engineering and Cancer Research
Director, Tufts Civic Science Initiative

John Rumpler (A'88)

Senior Attorney
Clean Water Program Director
Environment America

Last year in Flint, Michigan, an entire community's drinking water was contaminated with lead:

- How did this happen?
- Who is vulnerable in our communities and how can we help?
- Is Flint an isolated incident?
- Could we soon face a future where safe drinking water can no longer be taken for granted in America?

Refreshments will be provided

Co-sponsored by Tisch College

For additional information contact: audrey.aduama@tufts.com/

https://www.facebook.com/events/1103917113054979/?active_tab=about

